

NEW SUPPLEMENTS TO THE LAW LIBRARY COLLECTION
A SELECTED LIST

May/June 2019

Attempted Justice: Misunderstanding and Bias in Psychological Constructions of Criminal Attempt, by Avani Mehta Sood, Stanford Law Review, vol. 71, no. 3

Vicarious Trauma in the Courtroom: Judicial Perceptions of Juror Distress, by Dawn E. McQuiston, M. Dylan Hooper, and Abbey E. Brasington, The Judges Journal, Spring 2019, vol. 58, no. 2

Can a Statute Have More than One Meaning? by Ryan D. Doerfler, New York University Law Review, vol. 94, no. 2

Past is Prologue: African Americans' Pursuit of Equal Educational Opportunity in the United States, by Janel George, Human Rights, vol. 44, no. 1.

Pro Bono is the Key to Expanding Access to Our Courts, by Michael G. Bergmann and Brent Page, GP Solo, January/February 2019.

Limited Scope, (Almost) Boundless Opportunity, by Jessica Bednarz and Samira Nazem, GP Solo, January/February 2019.

How Courts Can Increase Access to Justice By Adopting Better Technology, by Nick Rishwain, GP Solo, January/February 2019.

Challenging Racist Predictive Policing Algorithms Under the Equal Protection Clause, by Renata M. O'Donnell, New York University Law Review, vol. 94, no. 3.